

Acker Apple

me@ackerapple.com

561-239-2967

Coconut Creek, Florida

ackerapple.com
linkedin.com/in/acker-apple/

5/2019

GREETINGS AND SALUTATIONS

My career in software engineering has exponentially given my life great purpose, pride, and drive. I have developed immensely as a programmer from many years of dedicated software architecting. In an industry of short term and constant change, I have maintained long satisfactory employment.

I desire to continue programming for an organization that I can have high pride and loyalty to. I have accomplished the most when working with large teams. The joy of completing goals and sharing in success gets me out of bed.

Quite possibly, I have some of the greatest talent and potential to engineer success. Past career endeavors of mine are posted on display in my mobile app, website, YouTube video, and job search engines. I want to be seen for my great potential by my next employer and have my skills utilized towards substantial purpose and function. My development ability range is vast from my long term experience in Angular, NodeJs, Firebase, AWS, and other Full-Stack technologies.

I am that great fit you need for your team. Thank you kindly for your consideration.

Cordially,
Acker Apple